MINEX

EUROPE 2015

1st MINEX EUROPE MINING & EXPLORATION FORUM

MINEX Europe Forum is the first pan-European technical and investment conference focused on promoting mineral exploration and mining in Europe. Inspired by the EU Horizon 2020 and Raw Materials initiatives, which aim for the minerals industry to account for 20% of EU GDP by the year 2020, the Forum will address ongoing developments specific to exploration and mining across the European continent. This annual event will be held in a different European country each year, offering delegates the opportunity of gaining a deeper understanding of mining prospects in the host country.

EXHIBITION

The MINEX Europe Trade and Investment exhibition, held over two days alongside the Forum, offers a unique opportunity to organisations to demonstrate their products, services and projects to a target audience of professionals who are interested in or already involved in the mining industry in Europe. Whether you are a junior explorer, a producer, a supplier or a service provider, exhibiting at MINEX Europe is the ideal way of meeting new partners, investors or clients.

CONTINUOUS PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

In addition to the main Forum we will be running a series of masterclasses aimed at encouraging career development of mainly junior and mid-level professionals. With predictions of a deficit of mining professionals in the near future, development of the next generation of leaders is increasingly important. Masterclasses will run alongside the Forum, with professionals from each stream joining together for networking opportunities.

SURVEY

There is a common misconception that mining in Europe is virtually non-existent and that there is little potential for discovering or exploiting new deposits. In the run-up to the Forum, MINEX Europe will be conducting a survey, "Europe – open for mining?" to find out what professionals with experience of the European mining industry really think. The results of this new annual survey will be presented at the Forum.
